

Aviation Rulemaking Committee

The ADS-B Aviation Rulemaking Committee (ARC) was established by the FAA Administrator under FAA Order 1110.147 to provide a forum for the U.S. aviation community to discuss and review the Notice of Proposed Rulemaking (NPRM) for ADS-B, formulate recommendations on presenting and structuring an ADS-B mandate, and consider additional actions that may be necessary to implement those recommendations.

The ADS-B ARC currently is reviewing public comments submitted in the docket for the NPRM and developing its recommendations to the FAA.

The ARC is scheduled to deliver its recommendations to the FAA in late September 2008. The recommendations will be posted on the rulemaking docket web site at: www.regulations.gov. Use the search term FAA-2007-29305 to find all documents and comments related to the NPRM, including the ARC's recommendations
